Offering international world-class exhibits close to home, Museum of Surrey is a place of wonder and imagination with hands-on learning and storytelling. Come celebrate Surrey's past, present and future while you play, laugh and explore.

Exhibitions & Galleries

FREE ADMISSION

Being Punjabi: Unfolding the Surrey Story

Did you know that around 25% of Surrey's population is Punjabi? A contemporary, family-friendly exhibit celebrating this diverse and passionate community is coming to the Museum's Feature Gallery this fall. Discover and engage with the personal stories, objects, artifacts and art of Surrey's Punjabis.

October 2, 2019 to February 23, 2020

TD Explore Zone

Beat the rainy day blues in this child-friendly micro-Surrey, complete with a super-sized tree fort for climbing, safe experiments with electricity, wind wall, fishing boat and so much more!

Indigenous Hall

This is a first of its kind—a space of gathering, storytelling and exhibition that is voiced completely by Surrey's three land-based Nations: Semiahmoo First Nation, Katzie First Nation and Kwantlen First Nation. It is a dynamic and alive space intended to educate and inspire.
