

EDUKITS

Developed around a theme aimed at specific grade levels, teachers use our EDUKITS in their classrooms to extend the learning. EDUKITS contain hands-on artifacts and archival materials, including photographs, newspaper articles, letters and more. Each kit rental includes detailed teachers' notes, suggested learning activities, worksheets and recommended resources.

A Year at Cloverdale Elementary (K-4)

Students follow the lives of three real children during the 1910-1911 school year, and discover what life was like in Surrey's old city center more than a hundred years ago through touchable artifacts and an original story book.

Surrey's Punjabi Community (K-4)

Created in collaboration with members of Surrey's Punjabi community, this kit explores aspects of history, immigration, arts, music, language, food, clothing, celebrations, stories and Surrey residents. An excellent way to learn more about our cultural diversity.

Family Treasures (Gr. 4-6)

After examining documents and objects associated with two settler families, students explore their own cultural heritage as they identify, research, display, and present an item of personal significance; learning what their personal objects tell themselves and others about their cultural background.

Surrey's Home Front (Gr. 9-11)

Students interpret archival documents and artifacts to explore the lives of seven people of varied genders, ages and ethnic backgrounds who lived in Surrey during WWI. The Komagata Maru incident and German internment—just a few issues this kit covers.

Education Programs

IGNITE YOUR IMAGINATION

Homestead to High-rise (K–2)

Food, transportation, access to emergency services and getting an education—all were fundamental needs in an early settler community. As students handle artifacts, and use replica toys, they relate settler experiences in a growing community with contemporary living in Surrey. Onsite/Offsite/Digital offerings

Growing Surrey (Gr. 3–4)

Surrey has experienced many changes on its way to being the city we know today. Compare the lives of both Indigenous peoples and early Surrey settlers to our lives today when you explore an 1870s cabin, discuss how natural resources were used, and try your hand at weaving on a loom as you discuss clothing and textiles in the Textile Centre. Onsite/Digital offerings

Métis: The Flower Beadwork People (Gr. 3–4)

Explore the Métis culture and how this distinct nation joins European and Indigenous traditions to create a unique set of values, language, music, dance and art. Students will handle artifacts, recreate a buffalo hunt and dance a Métis jig. Onsite/Offsite/Digital offerings

Simple Machines (Gr. 5)

Get hands-on exploring six simple machines: pulley, lever, wheel-and-axle, inclined plane, screw and wedge. Students handle artifacts, build models, work through a scavenger hunt in the Surrey Stories gallery and create a catapult to take home. Onsite/Offsite/Digital offerings

School Memories (Gr. 5-6)

Learn what school was like in the 1930s. Explore the restored Anniedale school and discuss how education was different here compared to the Residential Schools of the time. Role play, the three “R’s,” and of course recess are all included. Onsite only

Exploring Canadian Government (Gr. 5-6)

Students will learn the history of the 1881 Town Hall while learning about the different levels of Government and their responsibilities, Canada’s political parties and the election process. Students will also participate in a class election in the 1881 Town Hall with campaigning and voting.

Archaeology of Ancient Cultures (Gr. 7)

Learn the basics of archaeological practices and analysis of primary source evidence with hands-on replicas. This program includes a DIY Mesopotamian clay cuneiform tablet lesson and a simulated Egyptian archaeological dig. Onsite/Digital offerings

Feature Gallery Programs

A school program created for an exhibit in the Feature Gallery. This program will be available for all elementary grades and will include a guided tour through the exhibit, breakout learning and activities. The featured exhibit for the 2021/2022 year is Bees! This is a collaboration between the Museum and the Surrey Honeybee Centre and will be available between October – December. Onsite only

/DIGITAL OFFERINGS

Christmas Long Ago (Gr. 1–4)

Sleigh bells jingling and carols sung around the fireplace; children experience how early settlers celebrated the holidays in Surrey long ago. Visit our 1870s cabin decorated for an old-time Christmas, handle real artifacts and make traditional decorations to put on your tree.

Wartime Christmas (Gr. 5–7)

Discover how families maintained the Christmas spirit during World War II when rations, homemade gifts and absent family members were a reality. Students listen to a wartime holiday story, practice sugar rationing and make Christmas crafts to take home.
