History

The inaugural meeting of the Surrey Photography Club took place at the Guildford Library on Tuesday 4th April 2006. With the large and growing population, it was felt there was ample scope for Surrey to have a club of its own. The club continues to work hard to ensure we meet the needs of the photographic community in Surrey.

The Club

We are an inclusive organisation, and welcome professional and amateur photographers alike. No matter if you are a beginner or a published expert, you will find a place at our club meetings.

Our members are interested in just about every type of photography, and you'll undoubtedly find someone who shares your passion. You can experiment with new themes and techniques in a supportive, constructive atmosphere. Field trips give an opportunity to find new areas to photograph and can seek assistance from other members in hands-on activities.

Club members have worked with local charities and non-profit organisations to assist with their photographic needs. We have successfully participated in local, national and international competitions, representing photographers from Surrey.

Be sure to visit our website to see our members strut their stuff and learn what's coming up.

Our Goals

We aim to promote the art, to help people learn and enjoy their photography, and to share with our members, and those of other organisations, our appreciation of photography.

When we meet: 2nd and 4th Monday of each month (except public holidays)

Where we meet St Helen's Anglican Church Hall, 128 St & 108 Ave, Surrey

What we do: Show and critique member's images
